*Blessing Bags

Kim has made many blessing bags and these are her suggestions – thanks Kim! I make sure everything will "keep" in a bag in my car. So nothing that will melt or dissolve or spoil. Everything I get is individually wrapped. I am a stickler for getting things that are cost effective. I buy on sale, at Costco and at $ store. It's amazing what stores clear out at low prices. That way the cost per bag is not that much and I can make more bags.

Here's a list to work off of:

Gallon size zip lock bags

Hard candy

jelly beans

fruit snacks

raisins

craisins

cookies

socks

t-shirts (I buy the best ones on sale at the Good-will and wash them)

beef jerky

tuna in a bag

granola bars

protein bars

peanut butter cups

fruit cups

spoons

hand wipes

hand sanitizer

single use toothbrushes

gum

bottles water

applesauce cups

change
